

May 11, 2010

First Flight to use night vision goggles.

First Flight, Health First's air rescue ambulance serving all of East Central Florida, has become the first air ambulance in Central Florida to use high-tech, military-grade night vision goggles when responding to calls at night.

Every First Flight pilot, flight nurse and flight paramedic has undergone training, and the cockpit of the helicopter has been revamped to allow for the new technology. ■